9/11: What a Difference a Day Makes, Ten Years Later

This time, with professional actors, with color, with special effects, with zombies that out-zombie the original zombies, they've told the exact same story, with about five minutes of changes in the plot, just enough to give it a great surprise at the end, and even though you've seen it before, and even though you know what the zombies are gonna do, and even though you know what each of the people inside the house are gonna do, it still scares the bejabbm out of you and satisfies the first rule of drive-in moviemaking: Anybody can die at any moment. IF we forget the Fairies, And tread upon their rings, God will perchance forget us, And think of other things.
